

BARRY JONES HAS BEEN EMPLOYED IN THE LAW ENFORCEMENT, SECURITY AND LOSS CONTROL MANAGEMENT FIELDS SINCE 1972.

ABOUT US

Barry Jones, Director and CEO of Jonesxl Pty Ltd established the business in December 1997. It has always been our business mantra for total compliance and probity in all our dealings with our clients, whether government, corporate or private sector engagements.

We endeavor to keep abreast of latest legislative changes, trends and workplace reforms by way of courses, conferences and networking.

We have the capability to ensure that your risk management needs are compliant to your respective legislation wherever you conduct business in Australia and the Pacific Rim.

Barry Jones has been employed in the law enforcement, security and loss control management fields since 1972.

After serving with the New South Wales Police Service, Barry entered the private sector and since 1989 has worked on a consultant bases for a prestigious international hotel chain, large manufacturers, both the Federal and New South Wales Government and smaller private enterprises, within the security, safety and loss control management fields.

Barry has a Degree in Justice Administration and a Certificate in Risk Management – AS4360: 2004 and has completed recognised courses in Investigations Procedure and Techniques, plus the usual induction courses expected of a police officer. Other courses completed include Environmental Auditing, Construction Safety Induction, Hazardous Materials Storage, Manual Handling and Fire Apparatus Use techniques.

Barry is a member of the Institute of Security Executives, National Safety Management Society, Risk Management Institute of Australia and the Australian Fire Protection Association as well as being a past Secretary of the Institute of Hotel Security Management.

Barry is a past member of the management committee of the Campbelltown Legal Centre
